2. Public Hearing

a. Application 15-09: Renewable Ventures, LLC., Applicant. Requesting text amendment to Article VI, Section 3.A Uses Permitted by Right of the Town of Thompson Zoning Regulations to include farms and agriculture, and Article VI, Section 3.B Uses Allowed by Special Permit to include farms/agriculture including hydroponics or aquaculture as part of the operation, hydropower and solar power generation facilities and appurtenances.

1. David Held of Provost and Rovero spoke on behalf of the applicant. He explained that the regulations currently only allow agriculture use in RA-80 and RA-40, and that the applicant has an agriculture-like project in mind for a piece of property zoned Industrial.
2. J. Rice stated that he would see a problem including agriculture as a Use Permitted by Right because that would allow farming of cattle, horses, sheep, etc. everywhere, including in an R-20 zone. He was more in favor of the Uses Allowed by Special Permit, stating that Uses Allowed by Special Permit give the Commission an opportunity to review the application and have a public hearing for the community.
3. D. Held stated that the applicant would not have a problem with eliminating the first portion of the application (Uses Permitted by Right) and editing the first portion (Uses Allowed by Special Permit) to included all agriculture (rather than just agriculture including hydroponics or aquaculture). He suggested adding "15. Farms and Agriculture" under Article VIII, Section 5.
4. G. Lee stated that expanding agriculture use would fit with Thompson's Plan of Conservation and Development.

5. J. Rice was worried about the legality of amending an application at a public hearing. D. Held explained that the Commission can make the application more narrow and restrictive, just not more broad.
6. Al Landry, 33 Randall Rd., stated he wouldn't want to see agriculture use in an R-20 zone. He agreed that Uses Allowed by Special Permit in an Industrial zone would be more preferable. He stated that what the applicant has in mind sounds like agro-business, which could fit in the Industrial zone, and the Town wouldn't be 'cutting its own throat' by allowing it.
7. Mike Licamele stated that he is part of the team that is requesting the text change. He stated that the Commission's idea seems like a good compromise, because the company can come back to the Commission to have its plan approved. He stated that he appreciates the opportunity to work with the Commission in the future.
8. J. Rice suggested using only the word 'Agriculture' rather than 'Farms and Agriculture' to which D. Held agreed.
9. Joseph Parodi moved and Bill Cacciapouti seconded the motion to close the public hearing for application 15-09.

- b. Application 15-10: 962 Riverside Thompson, LLC., Applicant. Requesting text amendment to Article VIII, Section 3 Uses Allowed by Special Permit of the Town of Thompson Zoning Regulations to include new multi family dwellings/accessory structures and to allow multi-family dwellings/appurtenances as an adaptive reuse of existing structures.
  1. D. Held of Provost and Rovero spoke on behalf of the applicant. He explained that the specific buildings the applicant had in mind are old mill buildings and mill housing. He pointed out that they included a definition of existing structures, which would be structures that existed before Thompson's Zoning Regulations. He stated that the application is trying to make the regulations more flexible, because if a project is limited to a small number of units in a multi-family dwelling, the project wouldn't be worth it.
  2. G. Lee pointed out that the re-use of existing structures is in the Plan of Conservation of both the Town and State. J. Parodi added that a favorable decision would be consistent with other recent actions the Commission has taken.
  3. D. Held gave as an example that if someone wanted to put apartments in the Rivermill, the current regulations would limit them to 7 or 8 apartment units, so the apartments would be huge and un-rentable.
  4. J. Rice questioned adding the word 'New' to item number 1. D. Held agreed that the word could be removed from the application.
  5. D. Held reminded the Commission that if it has any problems (with parking, density, number of units, etc.) with a particular parcel or application, the Commission will be able to address it when the application comes through for Special Permit.
  6. Al Landry, 33 Randall, stated that he is not in favor of multi-family stuff, adding that they do not tend to pull their weight tax wise. He stated that he was against the project to put 50-60 units in Rivermill. He explained that the Town is rural and he'd like to keep it rural.

7. Mike Licamele stated that he also comes from a rural town with sensitive tax issues. He pointed out that anything on the Industrial side of the project would come with good tax revenue for the Town.
